WOMAN, 23, RAPED AFTER LEAVING PUB

DETECTIVES hunting a rapist who attacked a young woman in Harlow on Friday evening have this week issued an urgent appeal for information.

The 23-year-old was assaulted near to a learning support services building in Commons Road between 11.30pm and midnight.

She was attacked as she made her way home from the nearby Chequers pub.

A police spokesman said: "We have two points of appeal, the first to any customers or staff at the pub who saw this woman inside and then leave and the second to anyone who saw the assault."

"The suspect's description is fairly distinctive

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

so we're hoping this does trigger someone's memory."

The man is described as white, of chubby build with a close-shaved head and black stubble near his mouth.

The woman was interviewed by specially-trained officers at the county's sexual assault referral centre following the attack and is now recovering from her ordeal with the support of family and friends.

A local resident, who did not want to be named, said people living in the area had been shocked by what had happened.

"I have lived here for several years and have never known anything like this to happen before," they said. "Commons Road is a very quiet road and it was a big shock to hear that such an awful thing had taken place."

"We really hope they catch whoever is responsible."

Anyone with information about the attack or who thinks they know the identity of the rapist should contact the Harlow Major Investigation Team by calling 101 or emailing sedappeals@essex.pnn.police.uk.

Nappy new year for three happy couples

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE arrival of 13 babies at Princess Alexandra Hospital on New Year's Day gave parents across the region the perfect start to 2012.

As Big Ben's famous chimes rang out across the country, midwives at the Harlow hospital were busy looking after expectant mums, with the first baby being born at 1.03am.

Stephen (32) and Stacia (36) Edmeades, of Malkin Drive, Harlow, were thrilled when their first child – son Olly (8lb 13oz) – finally decided to make an appearance at 9.28am as he had been due to arrive on December 21.

"He was pretty late so I had to be induced in the end," said Stacia. "It has been a great way to start the year though and he is absolutely amazing. I never thought I would feel love like this."

Sian Williamson (18) and partner Gary Edmunds (21), of Moorfields, Harlow, welcomed their daughter Robyn (7lb 12 oz) a couple of hours later at 11.31am.

"She had been due on Boxing Day so it was a real surprise when she came on New Year's Day," said Sian. "I thought it was a false alarm at first."

"She is settling in really well at home and it has been a lovely start to our new year."

Andrzej (32) and Ewa (31) Sowinska, of Brockles Mead, Harlow said that everything had gone "perfectly" for the birth of their first child – daughter Nadia (7lb 2oz) – who arrived at 12.47pm.

"She came on time and we were both delighted with the level of care we received at the hospital," said Andrzej.

"The staff were all really brilliant. We are both very happy."

Chance to voice concerns about waste plant plan

RESIDENTS worried about plans to build a waste transfer station at the Templefields industrial estate in Harlow are being encouraged to attend a drop-in session with council planning officers to discuss their concerns.

The session takes place at the Adult Community Centre in Northbrooks on Monday from 3pm.

Michael Hustwitt, leader of an action group fighting the proposals, urged local residents and business owners to continue supporting their campaign.

"It is important to show your feelings because once this site is added to the waste development document it will make the area a permanent waste site for ever," he said.

"The drop-in session is an opportunity to talk to planning officers about the proposed site and show them that this is the wrong location."

ECC will also continue to accept written objections until January 19. Forms can be obtained by emailing Mr Hustwitt at mikeh@lavertechtechnology.com.

Team that lived self-build dream

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

MOST of us aspire to own our dream home and back in the 1950s a group of people got together in Harlow to turn that dream into reality.

According to Sue Rowley – whose father George Money was the instigator of the housing project – it was after reading about a self-build group in a magazine that he decided to give the do-it-yourself project a go.

"We were living in Tottenham at the time and my parents had been on the council housing list for quite a while," explained Sue, who now lives in Barnsey.

"After reading about this other self-build group, Dad – who was an electrical engineer – had the idea stuck in his head so he started advertising in the local newspaper to see if anyone else with a trade would be interested in building their own homes.

"He got a lot of responses and with my uncle's help formed the Main Line Self Build Association.

"The group used to meet at a hall in Ponders End and eventually, after a lot of planning, came to an arrangement with Harlow Council about using some land in the Tye Green area. They began work on the new homes in 1958."

The group had 28 members including an instrument maker, a tailor, a schoolmaster, two firemen and a handful of skilled building workers. All had to adhere to some strict rules to be part of the scheme.

"Everyone was working around their usual daytime jobs, but would also have to do an extra 22 hours at the site a week, usually throughout their weekends," said Sue. "They also had to dedicate a week of their annual holidays to the project.

"If a member was late or absent for no good reason they were fined. It was all very strict."

The initial cost to each member was £50 paid into the association's building fund

and a weekly sub of 7/6d (37p) for tools and equipment each week.

"I know the final cost worked out to be something like £2,500 whilst the house value was nearly £4,000," said Sue. "That's not bad for a four bedroom house with underfloor heating, double glazing and our first ever bathroom!"

She added: "We moved to Harlow in July 1960 and were all absolutely thrilled. It was a beautiful house in what was a beautiful countryside area at the time.

"We all have a lot of happy memories about growing up there."

Can you put two former penpals back in touch?

A LETTER from the other side of the world dropped on the Nostalgia desk this week. It was sent by Lindsay Upton (nee Urquhart) from Auckland in New Zealand who got in touch to see if we could help reunite her with Lauraine Day – her childhood penfriend from the early 1970s.

She writes: "I know that in 1971 Lauraine lived in Harlow with her family, attended a local school and was enrolled as a Brownie in a Harlow pack.

"In her letters she mentioned her grandparents lived on the Isle of Wight and she frequently spent her holidays with them.

"I was living in Tauranga, New Zealand, and was enrolled as a Brownie in the 1st Gate Pa Brownie Pack. We corresponded with each other for several years before losing contact."

Lindsay, who is now a media studies teacher, says her various attempts to get back in touch with Lauraine have so far been unsuccessful.

"I would love to catch-up with her, maybe via Skype," she added. "Unfortunately all my methods of trying to find her have been fruitless and I have been unable to trace her whereabouts. Please can you help?"

If you think you can help reunite Lindsay with her old penpal Lauraine, write to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

25 years ago in the Star

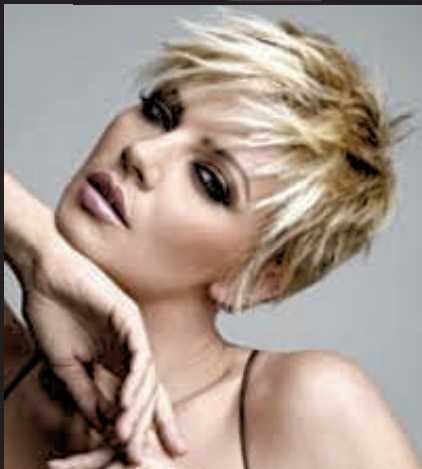

➔ The town shivered this week as the big freeze left many without running water, transport or refuse collections. Temporary standpipes had to be erected in the streets after frozen pipes left hundreds of people without water. The Met Office at Stansted confirmed that Harlow had suffered some of the coldest conditions in the country.

➔ Harlow police have discovered a positive outcome of the recent sub zero temperatures after seeing a significant reduction in crime. Inspector John Emmerick of Harlow police said the weather had been the most effective crime prevention officers of the winter.

➔ Volunteers and staff at Pets' Corner are starting the new year in the pink after eight piglets were born at the Town Park children's zoo this week. The pedigree baby pigs born to mum pig H23 and dad Ridgeworth Rastus survived from a litter of 12.

➔ Unigate Dairies in Wych Elm is offering a £25 reward for the safe return of an accounts book stolen from a milk float. The book which contains details of orders for the company's customers in the town was stolen while one of the milkmen was on his rounds.

Couple celebrate 65 years of marriage

A COUPLE who first met while at school have started the new year in style by celebrating their 65th wedding anniversary.

Childhood sweethearts Ken and Jo Parsons, of Little Pynchons, Harlow, were in the same year at adjoining schools in Wimbledon and started courting when Ken mustered the courage to ask Jo out at the age of 17.

Although Ken (85) then joined the Navy to serve his country during the Second World War, their relationship blossomed.

"Ken was part of an Atlantic convoy until the end of the European war and then was sent to the Far East until October 1946," said Jo, who celebrates her 86th birthday today (Thursday). "We would see each other when he got leave and wrote when we could, although the post wasn't very reliable then!"

The were married on January 4, 1947 in Wimbledon where they lived for the next 11 years. The couple - who have four children six grandchildren and five great grandchildren, moved to Harlow in 1958.

"We have had a very good life together," added Jo. "I think our secret is that we have always understood each other, are able to give and take and also have a good sense of humour!"

Digital switchover talks still ongoing

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

LABOUR councillors have accused the town's Conservative-run administration of "procrastinating" over a deal to secure a free television service for residents after this year's digital switchover.

With less than four months to go until the final analogue transmitter covering Harlow is switched off, the council has yet to confirm whether Virgin Media will continue to provide a free service on the town's piped network.

If a deal is not agreed, viewers will either have to pay hundreds of pounds to install aerials or subscribe to paid-for services provided by Virgin or Sky as Freeview set-top boxes will not work if connected to the network.

This week Labour group leader Mark Wilkinson called on the council to make a statement on the state of the negotiations.

"We as councillors are getting a lot of enquiries about what is going on with the digital switchover and are still unable to give anyone a straight answer," he told the Star.

"At the last full council meeting Labour councillor Mike Danvers asked again if a decision had been made and again we received the same answer from council leader Andrew Johnson about negotiations with Virgin being 'ongoing'.

"We have been receiving the same standard answer solidly for a couple of years now and it is getting very near to the cut-off point."

"I don't think it is enough and people deserve to know what is going on. This Conservative administration has had enough time to find out."

The transmitter at Crystal Palace which serves part of Harlow will be switched over in two stages - on April 4 and April 18. The two other transmitters which cover the town - at Sandy Heath and Sudbury - were switched over last year.

Cllr Johnson confirmed negotiations with Virgin were ongoing but said that discussions were now in their final stages.

"Talks are continuing and we are hopeful that these discussions will conclude shortly," he said. "We expect to make an announcement soon."

"We have recently updated our guidance on the digital switch over and residents can find the latest copy of this on our website at www.harlow.gov.uk."

Time running out to apply for primary school places

PARENTS and carers of children expecting to start primary school in September this year have just over a week left to apply for places.

Essex County Council has issued a reminder that applications for school places for youngsters born between September 1, 2007 and August 31, 2008 must be submitted by Sunday, January 15.

Applications can be made via the ECC website at www.essex.gov.uk/admissions. The website also contains information about different schools in the area along with latest Ofsted reports and admission criteria.

County councillor Stephen Castle, cabinet member for education, said: "Applying for the first school for your child can be a daunting process so the website aims to provide people with the tools they need to make an informed application."

"Last year we were able to provide most parents with their preferred school but schools can become oversubscribed so it is very important for parents to select more than one preference and keep their options open."

Service cuts caused by Tory government

SIR, Tony Hall's suggestion that Harlow was not built by Labour but by Marshall Aid does not make sense (Letters, December 29). The Labour Government elected in 1945 brought in the New Towns Bill in 1946 and Harlow was designated as a new town in March 1947 – before Marshall Aid was conceived in June 1947.

Although it aided Britain to overcome shortages caused by the Second World War, Britain's recovery under Labour meant that Marshall Aid payments could be suspended by December 1950.

In addition to enabling huge numbers of homeless and desperately overcrowded people to move into new homes with all mod cons in Harlow and elsewhere, the Labour government achieved full employment, set up the National Health Service, effectively created the welfare state, more than doubled old age pensions and restored severely run down industries by nationalisation.

Cllr Hall says I am right about the many amenities which Harlow's Labour council achieved but then accuses Labour of not maintaining them. The main reason why services were cut back was that the Conservative government diverted the business rate receipts from local authorities to central government – costing Harlow perhaps £3m in annual revenue. There was no £20m subsidy from Mrs Thatcher.

When Cllr Hall claims the Conservative-run council has a plan to secure all the services, does he really believe that offering all the discretionary services to outside bidders will maintain existing standards? The proposal to move Harlow Museum from its splendid site and lose its excellent archive service is one example of the threat now faced.

Finally, Britain's economy was not plunged into recession by the Labour government but – like Greece, Ireland, Portugal, Italy, Spain and many other countries – by the world economic crisis which began in the USA. Gordon Brown

More should be done to stop cycle thieves

SIR, My husband and I had the misfortune of being the victims of the theft of our new bikes from Harlow Town station on December 18.

We had cycled to the station in order to travel into London by train to meet friends for the day. Perhaps naively, we thought our bikes would be fairly safe, securely locked up as they were in the cycle store room for a few hours.

Imagine our shock and dismay when we returned to find just the lock discarded on the floor. It had been sliced clean through, clearly by someone who had come armed for the job.

Whilst we stood there trying to take in what had happened, a man locking up his bike before heading for a train told us he had three bikes stolen from there in as many months. If we had known before that this facility was next to useless we would never have used it.

Earlier, my husband overheard a rail worker telling a colleague that he'd spotted a pair of bolt cutters lying openly next to the outdoor cycle rack.

I now have to question the wisdom of having this cycle store room at all, being as it is essentially a sweetie shop for thieves who only need to come to the station with the necessary tools at a time when the ticket barriers are open, cover their faces to avoid the CCTV, select what they fancy and wheel it away.

A sad indictment on today's 'something for nothing' society perhaps, but also a completely unacceptable and downright farcical situation when Harlow prides itself on being a green town with a great cycle network.

Why is more not being done to protect cyclists from this upsetting, inconvenient and downright expensive theft? It will only seek to drive more people into their cars which cannot be a good thing for the town.

Where are the so-called security patrols at the station? Why can we not have proper, secure storage areas? And why are the travelling public and their property treated with such contempt?

Personal tributes to two council stalwarts

SIR, Further to Ron Bill's letter responding to Tory councillor Tony Hall (Star, December 22), may I echo Ron's tribute to former councillor Bert Phelps. My first significant involvement in the Harlow political scene was in 1962 when I acted as Bert's sub-agent in the council election. Bert had been described as the most popular socialist in Potter Street, a somewhat backhanded accolade! He certainly deserved that and more.

May I also pay tribute to Patrick McClarnon, another long-standing councillor who has just died. Although we differed politically, he was always polite and never made it personal.

When canvassing in Great Parndon, he would knock on my door despite knowing that he would never get my vote and we would have a friendly chat.

The present generation of Tory councillors could well take a leaf out of his book.

Christmas shutdown makes perfect sense

SIR, I read David Forman's letter last week and thought I must have woken up on April 1 and his letter was an April Fool. It's contents made me wonder just who the trades council represents. I worked for Harlow Council for over 30 years until 2000 and I can assure the trades council that for most staff it was a complete waste of time going in to work between Christmas and New Year because the small number of people using its services made no practical or economical sense.

As a result, a skeleton staff remained on duty when we would much rather have been at home with our families. The cost to heat and light the many council buildings remained the same, as did all the back-up services such as IT.

The decision to close services at Harlow Council during the Christmas and New Year break only follows what many other councils have done for years. It is usually done with the co-operation of staff having to take some of their annual leave and should not involve any loss of pay.

The savings are substantial. Had the council taken such prudent steps many years ago it would not have found itself in such a dreadful financial position.

I suspect that the trades council would have more support if it was campaigning for all shops to close on Christmas Day and Boxing Day so that people of whatever faith could spend more time with their families.

A democratic process is our wishful thinking

SIR, It's good to read the Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson's warm words appreciating the real affection residents feel for Pets' Corner and other discretionary services under threat of closure (Letters, December 22).

For decades successive councils, mostly Labour, steadily built up and defended services for everyone freely to enjoy. When savage cuts threatened under the Thatcher years, Harlow signed petitions and marched under banners proclaiming 'Save Our Services'.

Cllr Johnson's dismissal of those who want to save much-loved services as wishful thinking or nostalgic yearning are reminiscent of Thatcher's dismissal of 'wets', even in her own Cabinet.

The nub of Cllr Johnson's argument is we simply cannot afford to run these services any longer. There's no option other than closure, unless providers can be found. Yet the administration chose this course of action. They had the option to use the windfall of £1m in other supportive ways. Only recently they chose to enjoy a lavish civic dinner and employ yet more consultants!

The issue is not about valuing partners but lack of consultation with both users and the public generally at the outset. Would users have suggested separating the museum service from its historic premises, set in beautiful gardens with very good free parking facilities? No. We still have not been informed about the long-term accessibility of records and artefacts, the future of staff or presence of Essex Records Office.

Would the general public have risked offloading Pets' Corner to a glossy, commercial outfit, providing exotic creatures or charging entrance fees? Would such an organisation recognise the enormous social benefits of work experience there or young people with special needs working alongside professional, supportive staff? Has the council even begun to contemplate the huge costs or difficulties of closure? The Labour group agreed important principles in relation to the survival of discretionary services some time ago, to apply to each service when details are available. Only not-for-profit organisations should be considered as partners.

We oppose the sale of assets of our discretionary services. We seek a guarantee of long-term sustainability. Core funding would be necessary in the form of a subsidy and the support of the council's professional staff. Crucially, existing services that are free should remain free. There should be a continuing dialogue with the public about the future of services contributing to the quality of life of residents and a significant part of our culture.

So far the administration proposes only to "explain" plans before submitting them to the Cabinet, thereby preventing discussion even with opposition councillors. We urge that a genuine consultation with the public on each facility is held, to actually listen and alter, if necessary. A democratic process – that's our wishful thinking. Not too much to ask, is it?

What a disheartening start to my new year

SIR, Deciding to take a brisk walk on the first day of 2012, my hopes of a fresh and optimistic start to a new year were soon to be dashed by the realisation that some people will always be ignorant boneheads.

Walking from Church Langley to Old Harlow – where I have spent 48 of my 49 years – via the footpath that crosses the farmland by Old Harlow Kennels.

It's shaping up to be a year of change and excitement

COUNCIL MATTERS

By Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson

NEW Year, fresh resolutions – the first days of January are the time when we all pledge to renew ourselves.

I'd like to share with you my New Year resolutions, not the ones about diets and health regimes (which always disappear by February) but about the exciting changes ahead for our town in 2012.

It's a big year for Harlow with a hat-trick of civic celebrations on the horizon. March heralds Harlow's 65th birthday as a New Town (we were set up by the Government in March 1947) while early June marks the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

Before you've caught your breath, the Olympic Torch relay will go through Harlow on July 7 as part of its Essex tour. It will be a momentous day for us to show off our town to the world. 2012 is also about making further improvements to our town centre. Although the economy is still uncertain, Harlow continues to be attractive to major stores and leisure operators. We are working with the private sector through the Town Centre Partnership to make sure new and improved stores and restaurants, together with events and other attractions, make the town centre a great destination for visitors of all ages.

There is also lots of work going on in building our Enterprise Zone. We will be marketing it hard as a place where businesses can thrive and take advantage of a range of incentives. Starting this month, the council is kicking off another business-friendly activity by hosting the first of 18 workshops on different aspects of business – from being self-employed to understanding VAT.

Coincidentally, I will be talking to the Federation of Small Businesses next week and delivering one clear message – Harlow is open for business, uniquely well positioned with great road, rail and airport links and offering a skilled, flexible workforce

Finally, can I thank the Star for supporting our competition inviting young people in Harlow to design a logo for the town's 65th birthday. We've had more than 40 entries and I've been struck by the outstanding creativity budding artists have shown. Now comes the hard part: picking one winner!

I was greeted by yards and yards of plastic sheeting erected by the Newhall Project. Not only was it blocking a right of way but attached was a note informing me that it was part of an ecological survey.

Bearing in mind that the plastic fencing is ruining one of the finest views in the parish looking across to Churchgate Street and the spire of St Mary's Church, the sheeting was probably crossing the routes used by wildlife, thereby interfering with the natural environment.

In addition, the remaining meadows next to the reservoir behind the kennels look as if they have been grubbed up. These meadows in summer produce an abundance of native wildflowers which help to maintain the bees and butterflies that feed from them.

Many years ago I worked picking veg on the farms that were there and ran school cross country races around those muddy fields. It distresses me to see one of the last remaining rural landscapes in the parish ruined by the eyesore that is Newhall estate and the way the Newhall Project is carrying out a so-called ecological survey.

But this was only the start of my disheartening start to the new year. As I walked up the access road from the kennels to London Road I couldn't fail to notice that the knuckleheads who are flytippers had been at their nasty business, dumping everything from old window frames and carpets to a huge pile of drink cans and bottles. Thanks fellas, Happy New Year.

Threatening letter a bit heavy handed

SIR, I have just received a letter from Harlow Council's council tax department stating that I had a shortfall in my payments of £29.08 and that if I did not settle this outstanding payment they would take court action against me.

I feel this is a bit heavy handed for such a small amount as I have not missed a payment during this year, although sometimes not always the full amount and sometimes over payments.

I feel as this is such a small amount a polite letter to remind me that there was a shortfall would have sufficed. There was no need for the threatening nature of the letter I received.

Two days before I received the letter I paid the year's payments in full but I doubt if I will get a letter thanking me for early payment.

Spend money on pavement repairs

SIR, I was saddened to read about Mrs Cullen's pre-Christmas accident and wish her well (Star, December 29).

I wonder how the jobsworth determined that the damaged pavement did not reach a criteria. Why should any damage at all have to reach a criteria?

Surely common sense shows it would be more cost-effective to deal with problems there and then before it gets worse and the council are sued for neglect and have to take more money from the public's pockets.

Maybe the money wasted on the shingle scattered needlessly on our road and poorly swept up after only one day of it being there could have gone to repairing the area of pavement where Mrs Cullen fell and towards other damaged pavements in Harlow of which there are many.

Surely that would have been much more beneficial to Harlow.

Peru trek pair to hold a race night

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

TWO determined friends who are planning to tackle a gruelling 10-day charity trek in Peru are hosting a race night to help them reach their £10,000 fundraising target.

Lorna Crump (32), of Collins Meadow, Harlow, and Lisa Tiffin (30), of Ladyshot, Harlow, have signed up for the Inca Trail challenge in aid of the breast cancer unit at St Margaret's Hospital in Epping.

They chose to raise money for the unit after a friend's mother died from the disease two years ago.

The race night is the latest in a series of fundraising initiatives organised by former work colleagues Lorna and Lisa.

"Neither of us have ever done anything like this before," said Lorna. "But we are really keen to get involved with the charity trek after seeing the good work the hospital did for our friend's mum when she was fighting breast cancer."

"The race night is the latest event we are holding to help us reach our fundraising target, so we are hoping as many people as possible will come along for a really fun night supporting this fantastic cause."

To complete the trek which takes place in July, they will have to walk 10 hours a day carrying heavy backpacks in temperatures rising to 30C during the day and -5C at night. They will also have to cope with high altitudes in the Peruvian mountains.

"It will no doubt be a huge challenge for us and we will have to do a lot of training beforehand," said Lorna. "But we are both really looking forward to the experience."

She added: "The hardest bit will be reaching our £10,000 fundraising target but if it helps other families going through the trauma of breast cancer then all our hard work will be worthwhile."

The race night will be held at Harlow Greyhound Stadium on Friday, January 13 starting at 7pm. Tickets cost £10 and can be purchased by calling Lorna on 07825 833365.

To sponsor Lorna or Lisa, visit their fundraising web pages at www.justgiving.com/Lorna-Crump and www.justgiving.com/LISA-TIFFIN01/.

Over-50s group celebrates record year of fundraising

AN over-50s group in Harlow are giving themselves a well-deserved pat on the back after raising more than £6,000 for charity last year.

Re-formed Activities, a club running a range of sports and social events for people over 50 in and around Harlow, raised the money through a number of initiatives. It was then given to various causes.

One member, May Lee, raised £350 for the Harlow Alzheimer's Society by collecting unwanted bric-a-brac to sell at their club headquarters in the Abercrombie Centre. Mrs Lee's husband, Frank, is pictured, above, presenting a cheque to Alzheimer's Society representative Sarah Tolson. The club also donated the £200 proceeds from a raffle to the Pancreatic Society.

The most money was raised by the club's walking group, who collected more than £5,500 for Harlow Fields School and College through sales of a charity calendar featuring members wearing little else than a smile. The group will be presenting a cheque to the school later in the month.

Chairman Ted Sayers said it had been an exceptional year for the club.

"All our members think it is important to raise money for good causes and of course all have particular ones that are close to their hearts."

"Everyone has done a fantastic job and we are extremely pleased to have raised more than ever before this year. We will certainly be continuing our efforts through the next."

Re-formed Activities currently has over 400 members and are always keen to recruit more. For more information visit the website at www.essexinfo.net/reformed-activities or call Ted on (01279) 835349.

Foodbank receives £6k from NatWest community awards

A CHARITY providing emergency food for those in need has secured a £6,275 grant.

Harlow Foodbank, which is based at the Rainbow Centre in Wych Elm, received the money from the NatWest CommunityForce fund.

The organisation was one of more than 5,000 charities to apply for the awards, which were given to the three groups that received the most public votes in each of the bank's 131 CommunityForce areas across the country.

Gary Knott, Harlow Foodbank's project director of community services, said it would use the extra money to develop its satellite centre service, which helps give clients easier access to Foodbank vouchers.

"We are delighted to have won the award," he added. "It highlights the valuable contribution Harlow Foodbank is making on the local community and we would like to thank everyone who voted for us."

Multiple births support group seeking members

A GROUP providing advice and support for parents of multiple birth children under the age of five is looking to recruit more members in the new year.

Fall in number of fatalities on county's roads

THE number of people killed in accidents on Essex roads fell last year.

Figures released by police show that 17 drivers, seven passengers, 10 pedestrians, six motorcyclists and one cyclist lost their lives during 2011. The total of 41 compared to 51 deaths in 2010.

But while police described the reduction in fatalities as encouraging, they said that many of the accidents were avoidable and said there would be no let-up in their road safety campaigns.

Road policing Inspector Scott Egerton said: "Last year saw too many people needlessly die on our roads. The overall figures are encouraging and hopefully our road safety messages are hitting home."

Throughout the year Essex Police worked with county, district and borough councils on various initiatives designed to reduce the number of road casualties.

The Essex Casualty Reduction Board, which is made up of representatives of Essex Police, Essex County Council and Essex County Fire and Rescue Service, funded a number of road safety operations which were designed to educate people with the aim of enhancing their road skills and general awareness.

Essex Police casualty reduction manager Adam Pipe said: "There were 41 people killed on our roads in 2011 and many of these deaths were avoidable."

"There are still far too many people who think that driving or riding are ways of getting a thrill but it's a sad fact that these motorists and motorcyclists are a danger to themselves and other road users. We will continue to take positive action against them."

He added: "A large percentage of crashes involving death and serious injury are attributable to three main reasons: driving too fast for the conditions or speed limit, failure to wear seat belts and driving while under the influence of alcohol or drugs."

"We will continue to rigorously enforce these offences throughout the next 12 months."

In addition to last year's fatalities, a total of 3,800 people were injured in collisions with 670 of those being classed as serious. In 2010 a total of 4,000 people were injured, of which 745 casualties were classed as serious.

"If we can encourage road users to act in a more responsible manner then we may just see the figures fall again in 2012," added Mr Pipe.

MP drops in to thank hospital staff

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon spent his Christmas Day morning doing the rounds when he visited Princess Alexandra Hospital to wish season's greetings to patients and staff. Mr Halfon, who was accompanied by hospital radio disc jockey Ian Jackson, said it was an opportunity to bring some festive cheer to those who not able to be at home for Christmas and also a chance to thank the people who were working hard to look after the sick. "It was my second Christmas Day going around the wards," he said. "It is good to be able to give patients some cheer, especially since they had to spend Christmas in hospital. "I was also pleased to be able to say thank you to hard-working hospital staff - cleaners, porters, nurses and doctors - who have given up their Christmas to dedicate themselves to looking after the sick. All of them deserved a special thanks."

Mugger steals boys' mobile phones

POLICE are appealing for witnesses to a mugging during which mobile phones were stolen from two teenagers.

The incident took place at 6pm on December 17 when the victims, aged 14 and 15, were walking on a cycle track near the Sainsbury's store.

They were approached by a man with a dog who started to talk to them. But as they walked together through the underpass next to the fire station in Fourth Avenue he suddenly grabbed one of the boys in a headlock and demanded both of their phones.

The suspect is described as a white man of a tall, slim build and aged in his early 20s. He spoke with a London accent, had stubble and the back of his head was shaved. He wore a grey hooded top with 'Hollister' written on the front in red, a grey beanie hat and jeans with silver metal studs on the rear.

The boys told police he called his dog Missy.

Anyone with information about the identity of the mugger should contact PC James Smith at Harlow police station on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 11

Freda thrilled to receive birthday card from Queen

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

CHEERS: Freda with family and friends at her birthday party

A CARD from the Queen took pride of place at the 100th birthday celebrations for one Harlow resident. Freda Dewey, of Southern Lodge, was the toast of family and friends who arranged a party for her at the Hare pub in Hare Street.

Freda, a great grandmother of three, was born in London on December 23, 1911. She met her husband, Fred, during the Second World War and the couple were married in 1942.

They moved to what would be their family home in Northolt, Middlesex, in 1947 with baby son, Ken. Daughter Jennifer arrived soon after. Sadly widowed in 1990, Freda decided to move to Harlow six years later to be closer to her daughter and has lived in the town ever since.

"I'm not sure exactly what Mum's secret is to living such a long and healthy life," said Ken. "She has never had any great hobbies or done anything particularly extraordinary... she's never even owned a passport!" "It has just been a very simple, happy life so perhaps that is the key."

He added: "She was very excited to receive her card from the Queen. I think that was one of her best birthday presents."

Scientists solve the Yeti finger mystery

THE mystery surrounding a yeti finger found in a remote area of Asia more than 50 years ago has finally been solved.

The yeti, also known as the Abominable Snowman, is a legendary ape-like creature which is said to inhabit the Himalayan region of Nepal and Tibet.

The remains of the finger have been kept in the Royal College of Surgeons museum in London since the 1950s.

But a scientist in Scotland has used latest techniques to analyse the finger and found that it is human bone.

The finger was taken from a Nepalese monastery by an American explorer in the 1950s.

Dr Rob Ogden, of the Royal Zoological Society of Scotland, said: "We had to stitch it together. We had several fragments that we put into one big sequence and then we matched that against the database and we found human DNA."

"It wasn't too surprising but it was obviously slightly disappointing that we hadn't discovered something brand new. Human was what we were expecting and human is what we got."

Despite the lack of evidence of its existence, the yeti story has been popular in both Nepal and the west. The Yeti even featured in the television series Doctor Who back in the 1960s.

'A true gentleman'

PATRICK McCLARNON

TRIBUTES have been paid to former Harlow councillor Patrick McClarnon following his death last month at the age of 84.

The Conservative stalwart had served on the council for almost 20 years, holding a seat in the Great Parndon ward until his retirement in May last year.

First elected for a four-year-term in 1987, he was appointed council chairman in 2003-4 and in 2008 received the Alan Pond Award for his unswerving commitment to the local Tory party.

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who said he was treated "like a son" by Mr McClarnon and his late wife Patsy, described his close friend as a passionate campaigner who embodied the deep values of Conservatism.

"Patrick was one of the finest men one could ever meet," Mr Halfon told the Star. "When I was first selected as Parliamentary candidate for Harlow back in 1999 he did more than most to support me and make me feel welcome.

"But Patrick wasn't just important to me and fellow Conservatives because he was a passionate campaigner; it was much more than this. He stood for something special – deep Conservative values of aspiration, decency, hard-work, respect and a love for tradition.

"He didn't just stand for them, he embodied them in every being and fibre of his body. Every word he spoke, every action, everything he did reflected what he was about."

Council leader Andrew Johnson described Mr McClarnon as to a "true gentleman of the old school".

"He served Harlow for many years and his contributions to the council chamber were incisive and thoughtful," he said.

"On a personal note, I learned a lot as a young councillor from Patrick who was always on hand to dispense elder statesman advice typically seasoned with wit and personal charm. He will be greatly missed."

news in brief

New Year Honour for council leader

THE Conservative leader of Essex County Council has received an MBE in the New Year Honours.

Peter Martin, who has represented the Chelmer division of Chelmsford since 1989, has been honoured for services to local government.

He was appointed leader of the county council in February 2010 following the resignation of Lord Hanningfield, who was subsequently jailed for expenses offences.

Council chief executive Joanna Killian said: "Councillor

Martin has been a great servant to local government and it is with absolute delight that I congratulate him on his MBE.

"Since becoming leader he has steered us through some tough financial decisions and overseen some major achievements. His expertise and judgement has been incredibly valuable and I look forward to continuing our successful partnership, approaching the challenges that 2012 brings."

During his time as a councillor he has had special responsibilities for environment and waste, economic development, heritage, culture and arts, planning, property, procurement and major infrastructure projects.

In 2001 he was appointed deputy leader of the Council and in September 2008 lead member for children's services.

Away from his council responsibilities, Cllr Martin has had a successful career in business and commerce.

Pedestrian dies in collision with car

A PEDESTRIAN died in an accident in North Weald in the early hours of New Year's Day.

Gary Turner (44), of Parklands, Epping, was in collision with a car on Epping Road shortly before 3am on Sunday. He was certified dead at the scene.

A section of the road was closed for approximately five hours while a forensic team carried out an investigation.

Police are appealing for anyone with information to contact the Serious Collision Investigation Unit on 101 (or 0300 333 4444 if calling from outside Essex).

Did you witness nightclub assault?

POLICE have issued an appeal for witnesses after two men were assaulted in a bar at a Harlow nightclub.

One of the victims suffered a fractured cheekbone during the incident at the Seen nightclub on Sunday, December 18.

A second man who went to the aid of the injured man was punched in the face and suffered an injury which required stitches.

The suspect is described as a white man aged in his late 20s, 6ft tall and of stocky, muscular build with short dark hair. He was wearing a dark T-shirt with gold writing on it.

Anyone with any information about the assault should ring PC Simon Suleman at Harlow Police on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Trust report says many teens' lives lacking structure

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

YOUNGSTERS growing up in Harlow without a daily routine or structure are more likely to struggle at school and have low self-esteem, according to a new report from a leading youth charity.

The Prince's Trust Youth Index, published on Tuesday, reveals how almost one in 10 young people in the east of England feel their days "lacked structure and direction" while growing up, while almost a quarter of those living in Essex said they did not have a set bedtime when they were a child.

The research – which gauges how young people feel about their lives across a range of areas from family life to physical health – also shows that more than one in four young people in Essex (29 per cent) "always" or "often" feel down or depressed, while almost half (48 per cent) feel stressed all or most of the time.

Harlow teenager Scott Chalkley (18), who managed to turn his life around with help from the charity following a chaotic childhood, said the report's findings reflected his own experiences.

"My childhood was very disrupted and in the space of five years I lived in 10 care homes," he said. "I never felt like I had a proper home and this really affected my confidence and behaviour."

"Throughout my childhood I always felt so unsettled. I started hanging out with an older crowd and going out as a way of escaping what was going on."

Excluded from school before taking his GCSEs after the disruption to his home life began to affect his behaviour, Scott turned to The Prince's Trust which helped him secure a place at Harlow College to study plumbing.

"I don't think I'd be where I am today without the help from the trust," he said. "Not only has my life settled down but I know what I want to do with my future."

Graham Ball, regional director of The Prince's Trust in the East of England, said:

SCOTT CHALKLEY: "Throughout my childhood I always felt so unsettled. I started hanging out with an older crowd and going out as a way of escaping what was going on."

"Without the right support, directionless teenagers can become lost young adults – unconfident, underqualified and unemployed."

"Our programmes, which include in-school clubs, give the hardest-to-reach young people intense, structured support and help to prevent potential drop-outs and exclusions."

The charity will help 50,000 disadvantaged young people across the UK in 2012.

Last year more than three-quarters of those given support moved into jobs, education or training.

NORMA PROBERT

Norma tells her own story as a child of The Raj

AN in-depth journey into the heart of Anglo-India ancestry during and after the country's partition with Pakistan forms the foundation of a remarkable first foray into print by an 86-year-old Harlow resident.

India-born Norma Probert, of Pittman's Field, has spent the past 10 years painstakingly researching and compiling her book True Children of The Raj. Written in an epistolary format with each chapter a letter addressed to her grandchildren, the letters draw on her own personal experiences to examine and reflect on life under the British Raj as a mixed Indian-British descendent.

"I was born in Lahore in north-west Punjab to a French-Portuguese mother with Indian ancestors and an Anglo-India father with a lot of British blood in him," said Norma, who recently graduated via the Open University with a BA Hons degree in English Literature.

"We had an absolutely fabulous life there and even during the dark days of suffering and slaughter throughout the India-Pakistan partition of 1947 we decided to stay in the region because it was our home."

Norma, who moved to England with her husband in 1962, said it was a mixture of her grandchildren's inquisitiveness and the publication of another book on the British Raj that spurred her into finally putting her memories down on paper.

"My grandchildren have always been very interested in hearing all my stories about living in India and Pakistan which is why I wanted to address it to them," she said.

"But it was a book called Children of the Raj by English author Vyvyan Brendon that really spurred me on to write the book.

"Her book was written purely on research or essentially secondary or tertiary sources about living in the British Raj and in my opinion had a lot of inaccuracies.

"I also found it rather derogatory towards the Anglo-Indians, forming the impression that we were substandard which wasn't true at all. I wanted to put things right"

Describing her book as "life-writing", Norma – who writes under the pseudonym of Helen Renaux – stressed it isn't intended as an autobiography but rather a historical and geographical insight into the origins of the "mixed-hybrid race of beings in India that turned out to be beautiful".

"This actually started out as a personal project for me and my family, not one for publication," she said. "It was university friends and family who insisted I had it published after reading abstracts, so in the end I just thought 'why not?'."

Norma added: "It has taken me a lot of work and time to complete this book so it is incredibly exciting to see it finally published. "It would be lovely if there was a worldwide interest for it but mostly I am pleased to have played my part in telling the true story about the children of the Raj."

● True Children of The Raj is available to purchase in paperback on various online sites including www.Amazon.co.uk.

Magnificent Meryl has got Maggie down to a T

THE IRON LADY
certificate 12A, 1h44m

BACK in 1975, grocer's daughter Margaret Thatcher became the first woman to lead a major UK political party. Four years later she became our first female prime minister, holding office for three consecutive terms.

She united and divided the country, smashing through gender and class barriers to be heard above the patriarchal hubbub in Westminster.

The Iron Lady paints a sketchy portrait of Thatcher as she looks back over her life from the comfort of her lodgings at Chester Square in London's swanky Belgravia.

It would be impossible to shoehorn a lifetime of political tug-of-war into 104 minutes of screen time. Instead, scriptwriter Abi Morgan conceives a poignant tribute that revisits key moments in flashback, seen through the eyes of an increasingly frail woman fighting against the rising tide of fractured memories.

Baroness Thatcher (Meryl Streep) juggles a busy social diary with the help of assistants and her daughter, Carol (Olivia Colman). She hosts dinner parties where she voices her views on the current government and David Cameron but is disparaging about the state of Westminster since her departure.

Comforted by the ghost of her late husband, Denis (Jim Broadbent), she allows her mind to wander back to the 1984 IRA bombing of the Grand Hotel in Brighton during the Conservative Party conference, the Falklands war and her downfall precipitated by a critical speech from Geoffrey Howe (Anthony Head) in front of appalled fellow Cabinet ministers.

The Iron Lady is dominated by Streep's tour-de-force portrayal of Thatcher, which should earn her the Oscar by a landslide. She electrifies every frame of Phyllida Lloyd's film, disappearing completely beneath the ageing make-up, tailored suits and false teeth to embody a naive interloper who blossomed into a compelling orator.

Broadbent offers sterling support and Colman is equally impressive, including a heartbreaking scene in which Carol tearfully attempts to re-tether her mother's mind to reality.

As a full, unexpurgated history lesson, The Iron Lady is found wanting and great swathes of Thatcher's premiership are glossed over. However, as a portrait of a lady in her twilight years, Lloyd's film moves, providing us with fleeting insights to a figure who still divides opinion as much today as she did during her reign at 10 Downing Street.

PRIME MOVER: Meryl Streep as Margaret Thatcher in THE IRON LADY

The Girl With The Dragon Tattoo

With his reputation in tatters after being found guilty of slandering a prominent industrialist, journalist Mikael Blomkvist (Daniel Craig) accepts a commission from the reclusive Henrik Vanger (Christopher Plummer, who is haunted by the disappearance of his great-niece Harriet almost 40 years ago. Taking up residence on the Vanger estate, the hack begins his investigation into her death and he is aided by computer expert Lisbeth Salander (Rooney Mara), who has valuable insights into the case. Together, the unlikely sleuths follow the trail of secrets and lies, trusting no one as skeletons tumble out of the Vanger closet.

Mission Impossible: Ghost Protocol

Ethan Hunt (Tom Cruise) is sprung from a Russian jail by fellow agents Jane Carter (Paula Patton) and Benji Dunn (Simon Pegg). They are ordered to break into the Kremlin to steal intelligence files that reveal the identity of a terrorist codenamed

Cobaltm but the mission turns sour when madman Hendricks (Michael Nyqvist) detonates a bomb inside the building to cover up the theft of Russian nuclear launch codes. Disavowed by the US government, Ethan, Jane, Benji and top analyst William Brandt (Jeremy Renner) must operate outside of official channels to apprehend Hendricks before he can initiate nuclear Armageddon

Sherlock Holmes: Game Of Shadows

With newspapers filled with shocking headlines about anarchist bombings in Strasbourg and Vienna, the apparent overdose of a Chinese opium dealer and the death of an American steel magnate, Sherlock Holmes (Robert Downey Jr) deduces they are all linked to Professor James Moriarty (Jared Harris) and persuades his trusty sidekick Dr John Watson (Jude Law) to go on one last globetrotting adventure.

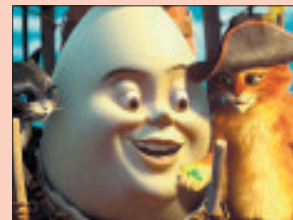

Alvin & The Chipmunks: Chipwrecked

Dave (Jason Lee) heads off on a luxury cruise with Alvin (voiced by Justin Long), Simon (Matthew Gray Gubler) and Theodore (Jesse McCartney) and the feisty Chipettes - Britney (Christina Applegate), Eleanor (Amy Poehler) and Jeanette (Anna Farris). As usual, Alvin gets into various scrapes, incurring the wrath of the ship's captain and former manager Ian (David Cross), who is working as the ship's entertainer. While Dave takes a nap, Alvin and the gang take flight on a kite and are blown onto a tropical island with an active volcano. While the chipmunks return to nature, Dave and Ian race against time to rescue the animals from their new home before it is covered in molten lava.

Puss In Boots

Young Puss (voiced by Antonio Banderas) is abandoned at an orphanage where kind Imelda (Constance Marie) raises the kitten as her own. Initially picked on by the boys, Puss learns to fight to survive and helps protect fellow outcast Humpty Alexander Dumpty (Zach Galifianakis). Many years later, the surrogate brothers join forces with sexy pickpocket Kitty Softpaws (Salma Hayek) to steal magic beans which are rumoured to grow a beanstalk that leads to the giant's castle and the greatest treasure of all: the Golden Goose.

Arthur Christmas

Santa (voiced by Jim Broadbent) has been the figurehead of the Yuletide season for decades and he proudly oversees this year's delivery of presents in his hi-tech spacecraft, masterminded with military precision by eldest son Steve (Hugh Laurie). Down in the bowels of the craft, youngest son Arthur (James McAvoy) excitedly answers correspondence from the children of the world, including a young British girl called Gwen (Ramona Marquez). A malfunction in the loading bay goes unnoticed by the elves in mission control and Gwen doesn't receive her pink bicycle. With time running out, Arthur joins forces with Grandsanta (Bill Nighy) and wrapping elf Bryony (Ashley Jensen) to deliver Gwen's gift.

OUR first cover property of 2012 is this four-bedroom family home in The Chantry, Harlow.

Located within a half-mile radius of The Stow and Old Harlow High Street, it is in what is often thought to be one of the prettiest areas of the Mark Hall North area.

The property is at the end of a terrace. It has been decorated in a neutral palette so would be easy to move

The family bathroom completes the accommodation upstairs.

Outside the back garden is mostly laid to lawn with part-decked area and part-paved areas. There is also useful outside storage.

This property is certainly worth a closer look and would make a delightful family home.

Houses, cottages, flats, apartments, maisonettes, studios, detached, semi, terraced - these are terms we as estate agents hear every day of our lives. They are the lifeblood of our business, but the common theme is they all represent the concept of home.

We are privileged to be a nation of homeowners. Property is right up there with the weather when it comes to conversation fodder, especially this year! We can't get enough of it, along with the perceived personal security offered by bricks and mortar that has long been a creator of wealth.

Either way, we are all the lucky ones! Because whilst we have been focussing on what to buy or where to rent, most of us have been unaware of, forgotten, or one has to admit, ignored, the plight of the ever-increasing number of homeless people. Those who have been dealt a raw deal in life, and to whom house prices are irrelevant. As are en-suite bathrooms, choice of carpets, views from the bedroom, quality of kitchen fittings, proximity to the station, size of garden or a host of other attributes that we tend to take for granted.

Homelessness has many causes, such as family breakdown, redundancy, repossession, a criminal past, or even people who have represented their country in the armed forces but struggle to settle into civilian life. Each of these is a tragedy in its own right that is compounded further by homelessness.

This article is not an appeal for money. It is simply a reminder about our priorities, and to think of those who don't share the simple pleasures we take for granted, such as changing into something comfortable after work, watching TV on the sofa with our loved ones, enjoying a meal with friends, or simply getting into a cosy bed at night.

At this time of year especially, let's remember those who don't have the luxury of a roof over their heads.

Hot-hatch with added opulence

By Steve Walker

IS it possible to have too much of a good thing? Renault apparently thinks not and, having cemented its reputation as a modern day master of the hot hatch game, the French brand is intent on flaunting its prowess to the maximum.

Alongside the Renaultsport Megane and Twingo models, Renaultsport versions of the Clio have won rave reviews. Now buyers wanting something extra from their fast Renault supermini can opt for a Gordini – the Clio Renaultsport with added opulence.

The Renaultsport Clio is a serious hot hatch – 200bhp and a 0-62mph time of 6.9s give it the performance to compete with the sector's leading lights, while sharp handling gives it a fighting chance through the corners, too.

Mechanically, the Gordini is identical to the Clio Renaultsport 200. The 2.0-litre 16-valve petrol engine does without the assistance of a turbocharger, which is becoming more unusual amongst this fast Clio's rivals. It means that the car produces its best higher in the rev range

FACT file

Renaultsport
Clio Gordini
200

£19,870

Performance: 0-62mph in 6.9s, maximum speed 141mph
Economy: 34.4mpg combined
CO² Rating: 190g/km
Length/width/height: 4,017mm/1,925mm/1,484mm and the driver is rewarded for persevering with each gear as the revs rise. The 0-62mph sprint is covered in 6.9s and the top speed is 141mph. Yes, the Gordini is fast.

Just as in the Clio Renaultsport 200, customers have a choice of chassis options at their disposal. The standard set-up features wider tracks than a conventional Clio. It also has a 10mm longer wheelbase and Renault's ingenious front suspension with its independent steering axis designed to reduce torque steer, the bane of powerful front wheel-drive cars.

Thicker anti-roll bars and stiffer suspension are the other key modifications but those wishing to go further can choose the Cup chassis option. Here the Clio gets hardcore with a lower ride height, even stiffer suspension and faster steering.

A lot of what makes the Gordini version of the Clio special is visual. The car, of course, gets the famous blue paintwork and double white roof stripes but there are a number of exterior features that separate this car for a standard Renaultsport Clio. Inside, the difference is even more pronounced. The Gordini continues the blue and white colour scheme adding seats and a steering wheel in blue and black leather plus a series of other trim upgrades.

Renault claims to have brought its experience in Formula 1 to bear on the aerodynamic side of the Clio Renaultsport and the curves of the front wing are vaguely reminiscent of something you might see in the paddock on Grand Prix day. Being effectively the range-topping Renault Clio, the Gordini isn't cheap. Keen drivers should also seriously consider specifying the optional Cup chassis which transforms the car's handling but makes things a little jittery in everyday conditions.

At least the standard equipment list is long, with Bluetooth connectivity, keyless entry, cruise control and numerous other items included. This is not your stripped out hot hatchback and really does add some extra luxury to proceedings.

The Clio Renaultsport's market positioning has been somewhat unusual because its hefty power output means it outperforms most of the supermini-derived models and is more closely aligned to the larger rivals like the Honda Civic Type-R and Volkswagen's Golf GTI.

In Gordini guise it's closer still to such models thanks to the higher price. While it might lack the space and sophistication of the larger alternatives, the Clio is a viable everyday car and the beautifully judged handling makes it a very attractive option for the keen driver. Don't expect anything too spectacular at the pumps, especially if you're regularly revving the engine hard to access the best of its performance.

In this day and age, emissions of 198g/km and fuel economy of 34.5mpg aren't great in a fast supermini, no matter how quick it is. The far larger and heavier Golf GTi manages 170g/km and over 38mpg but even it won't match the Clio for pure exhilaration on the road.

You can't blame Renault for making the most of its impressive Renaultsport range and the introduction of Gordini variants gave buyers the option of having all the pace with a little extra sophistication.

The Clio Renaultsport Gordini is far from cheap for a supermini-based hot hatchback but it's crammed with equipment and has a unique visual signature that will help owners stand out.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

New Year's Eve

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close the following lengths of road in Harlow:

Phase	Road Name	Description	Date and Duration of Closure	Alternative Route
1	Rundells	From the entrance of the garage area at the rear of properties 317 to 326, north, to its eastern junction with Commonside Road, a distance of approximately 75 metres.	12 January 2012 until 24 February 2012	Rundells, Commonside Road and vice versa.

The closures are scheduled to commence on the above dates and times, weather permitting, or where appropriate signs are showing, and are required for the safety of the public and workforce while construction of a surface water pipeline is undertaken to alleviate flooding in the area.

Access for emergency vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closures.

The Order came into effect on 26 October 2011 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

A Millers' tale as England players visit

>>ten pin bowling

ENGLAND bowlers Matt and Steve Miller skittled off for a debut performance at the Harlow Bowl.

The two young brothers have travelled the world playing for England.

Matt was the first English bowler to play in the junior and senior level at the same time.

He was runner-up at the AMF World Cup in 2010.

Last month both men went to play in a major European tournament in Romania. On this occasion Steve came away as the winner, while Matt placed fifth.

The event at Harlow Bowl started with Matt and Steve answering questions about their bowling careers which started at Enfield Bowl when they were in their early teens.

Both bowled every day and quickly entered the coaching set up for the England squad.

The duo hope to play on the full European tour in 2012 and if this goes well to play on the American circuit in 2013.

They then went on to give advice to the audience of 40 local bowlers on how they could improve their game, before trying out various bowling balls.

The highlight of the evening was when two local bowlers, Ryan Richardson and John Boon, won the chance to play a game at the Terminus Street venue with Matt and Steve.

Ryan came out on top with a game of 197, followed by Matt with 187, John with 186 and Steve with 167.

Hammers and sick-le!

TOTTENHAM Hotspur fan Josh Scott got a surprise when he looked at the label of a pair of Spurs gloves he got for Christmas – only to find it said 'official licenced product of West Ham United' inside!

Nine-year-old Josh, of Westbury Rise, Harlow, had received the gloves on Christmas Day from an aunt. She had purchased them on the internet from Sports Direct.

Although the gloves had the famous Spurs cockerel on the front, inside was the Hammers logo.

Josh's dad, Alan, said: "I wouldn't say he was disappointed, just a little bit shocked. But at least they weren't Arsenal ones!"

"I guess the Sports Direct supplier makes gloves for all the Premier League teams – and they forgot to switch the label."

Forest blitz for super Penguins

>>swimming

A HAUL of 11 medals and 12 Essex county qualifying times were accrued by Harlow Penguins' 16-strong team at the Epping Forest autumn meet.

Thirty-seven personal best (PB) times were recorded.

There were some amazing efforts by both the performance swimmers Mason Arnold (14) and Bradley Veitch (12), who between them chalked up five Essex county qualifying times.

Bradley's top swims came in the 100m individual medley (1 min 16.87 secs PB) where he sealed a gold medal.

He also took gold in the 50m butterfly (33.37 PB) and 50m freestyle (29.94 PB).

These were all Essex qualifying times.

Not to be out done, Mason struck gold in the 50m butterfly (31.04 PB), 50m freestyle (28.28 PB), 200m individual medley (2:41.03 PB) and 50m backstroke (34.27 PB). He also gained a silver medal in the 50m breaststroke (40.66 PB).

The club's youngest development swimmers were also in great form.

Silvester Havrillay (9) achieved five county times and a bronze medal in the 50m backstroke (45.10 PB). His other top swims were: 50m breaststroke (53.91 PB), 100m individual medley (1:38.08), 50m butterfly (46.31 PB) and 50m freestyle (40:68 PB).

Owen Stringer (9) achieved one county time, securing a bronze medal in the 100m individual medley in 1:37.77 and a PB in the 50m freestyle (40.25).

Dig out your nominations for top groundsman of the year

>>football

NOMINATIONS are being sought in Essex for the 2012 FA Groundsman of the Year.

Players or managers, grab the headlines but little attention is given to those who make sure the playing surface is in tip-top condition.

Their efforts at this time of year are crucial.

Groundsmen and women come into their own in a bid to fend off the elements and make surfaces playable so thousands can enjoy their matches.

Volunteers will be rewarded for braving the cold temperatures in their efforts to prepare the perfect playing surface.

Groundsman at Step Seven or below in the pyramid, including youth football, can be nominated by Tuesday January 21.

A number of factors are taken into account when judging a groundsman's work.

Among these are the number of games and training sessions held on the pitch over the course of a season and how an intensive number of games is dealt with, how much finance is available, whether the groundsman is a volunteer or works alone and whether the responsibility lies with them regarding the postponement of fixtures.

Last year Brian Terry from Old Chelmsfordians FC was shortlisted for the national award.

Essex FA county development manager, Brendan Walshe, explained: "This is a great opportunity for leagues and clubs to recognise the dedicated efforts of volunteers who work tirelessly to ensure pitches are kept in the best possible condition for players to enjoy the game on. Without them, the standard of pitches would be significantly affected."

To nominate in Essex download a form from www.essexfa.com, call the county office on (01245) 393085 or email info@essex-fa.com

The nominations will be forwarded to the main office of the Football Association and the winners will be chosen later this year.

Striker ignites Hawks with two goals on first start

NEW signing Jeff Hammond's striking prowess came to the fore as his double blast on his first start since re-signing before Christmas ensured the Hawks signed off 2011 with a bang.

After a goalless first half, the former Waltham Forest hitman showed the necessary clinical edge to dispatch Chatham Town and stretched Harlow Town's unbeaten league run to nine games on New Year's Eve.

The victory put Harlow in touching distance of the play-off places in Ryman division one north.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman enthused: "I thought it might take him a few weeks to settle in, but he came in today and got the two goals. We want goalscorers and now we have got him and Piers [Wixon] and [James] Peagram. As an attaching force we are looking good and we also have the third best defence in the division."

Harlow started well and were awarded a penalty on eight minutes when Peagram was brought down by Chatham skipper Brad Potter, who was yellow carded.

But Wixon's well-struck spot-kick low to the right was superbly saved by Chatham keeper Tim Roberts.

Harlow suffered a blow when midfielder Getro Kilapi was injured making a tackle and had to be replaced by Tom Bruno midway through the first half.

Hammond and Peagram wasted good chances for the hosts.

Chatham's first real chance came five minutes after the break, but Jack Jeffrey's header was superbly stopped by Hawks keeper Bert Bossu.

Harlow made the breakthrough a minute later.

A wonderful 80-yard ball from Wixon from his own half found Hammond and he held off a defender before coolly drilling past the keeper.

It was 2-0 on 59 minutes.

Wixon again pulled the strings. His great ball was timed to perfection to beat the offside trap and Peagram surged forward and then rolled the ball from the right edge of the box to Hammond who stabbed in his second from close range.

The third goal came on 69 minutes.

The Chatham defence fell asleep and Peagram played in Michael Deane who smashed the ball past the keeper from 10 yards out.

Harlow had countless other chances, mainly from Deane and Peagram, but could not add to their score.

Chapman added: "Peagram caused them no end of problems. They could not deal with him. Technically Piers is one of the best in the league. We never saw him as an out-and-out forward. He creates things. He makes things happen and you always have his goalscoring ability."

HARLOW TN: Bossu 7, Barnard 5 (Lemonious 74), Taylor 5, Haverson 6, Kirby 7, Kilapi 4 (Bruno 25, 7), Peagram 7 (Marshall 74), Lalite 6, WIXON 8, Hammond 7, Deane 6. Subs not used: Smith, Mann (gk). Att: 122. ● HARLOW Town have rearranged the league match at Redbridge. This will now take place on Tuesday February 21 (7.45pm KO).

Exciting Ely Eve run so easy for Bethel

JARED Bethel clocked a superb time when he came 20th in the Ely 10km race.

The Harlow Running Club member completed the New Year's Eve event in 36 minutes and 3 seconds.

His club colleague, Paul Jeffrey-Read, recorded his second personal best time in a race in the space of four days by finishing 47th in 38.46.

Jeffrey-Read was the first Harlow finisher when he completed the Buntingford 10-mile road race in a PB >>running of one hour, 5 mins 27 secs.

He came 33rd out of 425 finishers.

Jeffrey-Read was followed home by Harlow's John Tennant (72nd place in 1:09.31).

This gave him the veteran 60 age group trophy.

Sean Flynn clocked a PB of 1:13.17 to come 103rd and in his first race at this distance, Vince Hayward was 138th in 1:16.08.

Jamie Luck was 211th in 1:21.57 and was followed home by David Page (254th, 1:24.18) and his wife Janice Page (269th, 1:26.18).

Debutant 10-miler Joanne Mills was 343rd in 1:33.08 and Linda Hawkins came 374th in 1:37.48.

Previously, Sean Flynn was 60th from 131 finishers in 1:20.18 in the Ilford AC 10-mile cross country race at Chigwell.

Heavy hammer PB for veteran Bauer

DAVE Bauer set a personal best (PB) in the heavy hammer event at a throws meeting.

The 45-year-old Harlow Athletic Club member threw 11.02m in the heavy hammer (35lb) at an event in Brintree.

In doing so, Bauer, right, was fourth as he surpassed his previous PB of 10.89m which was set in 2006.

He is now ranked fifth in the UK for the men's over-45 age group.

Bauer, of Quarry Spring in Harlow, also came second in the discus with a throw of 38.26m and fourth in the hammer (30.78m).

Twelve athletes competed in several throwing events.

Former Harlow AC member Stuart Thurgood threw two massive PBs.

His best one was 59.83m and he won the competition.

Thurgood is now ranked second in the UK as a men's 35 age group athlete and 20th in the UK as a senior athlete.

Thurgood threw 15.81m for a season's best in the heavy hammer which put him in second place.

This now puts him third in the men's 35 age group in the UK.

● HARLOW AC have received details of their fixtures for next season in the Southern Men's Athletic League.

The club will hold joint meetings with the club's women's team on May 19 and June 30.

Other meetings are on May 5, June 9 and July 28.

Harlow's men's team remain in division two north, but there will only be seven teams in their division instead of the 16 of last year.

This is due to more teams defecting to the Southern Athletics League, which was launched a year ago.

Harlow AC men's team captain Dave Bauer said: "Great shame in my view but I see this as an opportunity for Harlow to try to win this division and bring back silverware to this club once more."

Great win for Ladies

HARLOW Lawn Tennis Club's Ladies second team secured a 6-2 win over Thurrock LTA in division four of the Essex League.

Harlow's first pair, Karen Butler and Nicola Barnett, played a steady game winning 10-2 10-7.

The second set lasted an hour and a half with the last 30 minutes played in poor light.

The second pair, Sarah Shoard and Jo Alumn, also played well, winning their first set 10-8.

However, after 10 months absence from the game Jo struggled with her fitness and the second set was won 10-1 by Thurrock.

Each set victory is worth two points.

Box Champs hit town

THE Essex Schoolboy Boxing Championships take place in Harlow this Sunday.

The boxing extravaganza is being held at Harlow Greyhound Stadium in Roydon Road. There are expected to be around 30 bouts.

Young pugilists from Harlow ABC are set to compete.

The boxing will start at 2.30pm and the draw will be made after the weigh-in has been completed.

Tickets cost £15.

Matthew goes fourth

MATTHEW Hayden came fourth when he competed in the four-stroke Honda Cadets in the last Hoddesdon Kart Club meeting of 2011.

The 10 year-old from Pear Tree Mead School in Harlow was last in the first heat.

Matthew achieved a third and a first in the second and third heats.

He qualified ninth on the grid for the final race, but leapt five places to come fourth.

DETERMINED: Hawks boss Danny Chapman remains confident (HSP0763282.)

'Play-offs? I still want the title'

THE Hawks' nine-match unbeaten league run may have come to an end but determined boss Danny Chapman still expects his side to not only achieve a play-off place – but win the title!

The busy festive period finally caught up with Harlow Town as a lethargic performance saw them slip to a 2-0 loss at Potters Bar Town on Monday for their first defeat in Ryman division one north since going down at Cheshunt in October. Chapman expects a big response from his side – starting with victory in Saturday's league match away to Soham Town Rangers, which comes three days before the prestigious Essex Senior Cup quarter-final tie at the plush Weston Homes Community Stadium against nPower League One side Colchester United.

Harlow remain just three points outside the play-off places.

They are 10 points off new leaders Leiston – a team Harlow beat 4-1 away in October!

One-time runaway leaders Needham Market appear to have imploded on the back of three successive defeats – and the title's up for grabs now.

"We went 17 unbeaten from last January to get a play-off spot. A couple of months ago people thought Harlow were out of it but now they are looking over their shoulder," Chapman said.

"There is still a long way to go. We look to win every game and we have got to go and get three points [at Soham].

"I said at the start of the season we could win the title and people smirked. Our ambition is to win the league. We have got every chance of doing it. We just need to stay focused and work as hard as we can. Everyone believes in what we are trying to do. We need to get back to basics. The players can't feel sorry for themselves."

He added: "Every team will have a blip. We had our blip two months ago and we are now kicking on. Other teams are still going to have that blip and it's important we take advantage of it.

"I believe this group of players can go on and not just get promotion but can go on and win this league. Why not? We need to keep consistency and keep winning football matches."

Midfielder Getro Kilapi is doubtful for the Soham match. He missed the Potters Bar game after coming off with a knee injury against Chatham Town on New Year's Eve.

Bar humbug as great run comes to an end

THE Hawks were very poor as they slumped to a bad defeat at Potters Bar Town on Bank Holiday Monday, writes DAVID RIMMER.

Aside from a strong penalty appeal for Harlow Town which was turned down flat, they deserved little as they were off the pace and lacked inspiration in their first game of 2012.

This was Harlow's first defeat in 10 league matches, and came despite the return of influential skipper Danny Brown, restored to the side after serving a three-game suspension.

He replaced midfielder Getro Kilapi who had sustained a knee injury in the 3-0 home win over Chatham Town on Saturday.

Harlow started sluggishly and keeper Bertrand Bossu made a good point-blank save to deny Bradley Harrison in the fifth minute.

At the other end, Ashley

Potters Bar Tn 2, Harlow Tn 0
Ryman League, division one north

Harrison-Barker cleared off the home line to keep out a Michael Deane shot.

On 15 minutes, Harlow had a strong penalty claim turned down when Jeff Hammond was fouled by Dan Odamo. "There were a few bodies in the way. It's one that sometimes you get and sometimes you don't," said Hawks boss Danny Chapman.

There was little fluidity from Harlow on a muddy surface and their fate was effectively settled by two goals from the hosts in a four-minute period. Bar went ahead in the 43rd minute. A long ball down the middle from Odamo resulted in a sloppy back header by Jack Haverson and James Gershfield pounced to shoot past Bossu into the net.

The Scholars, fresher after not having a game on Saturday, doubled their lead on 46 minutes. Gershfield tore down the left before passing across for Tom Pett to stab home at the near post.

Four minutes later, a James Pegram header from Jack Haverson's cross clipped the home bar.

Bossu dived to his left to keep out a six-yard shot from Pett on 64 minutes before the home keeper Matt Bennett dived to his right to stop a Piers Wixon free-kick.

"It was our second game in three days, but that is no excuse. We were second best for the 90 minutes. It was a fair result on the day. They fully deserved to win," Chapman added.

HARLOW TN: Bossu 6, Barnard 4, Taylor 5 (Bruno 76), Haverson 4, Kirby 6, Brown 5, Pegram 4, Lalite 4, Wixon 5, Hammond 5, Deane 5 (Marshall 67). Subs not used: Smith, Lemonious, Wheeler. Att: 120.
